Vol. 24 Number 25 Wed., July 1, 1970 510 Broadway Seaside, Calif. 93955 Area Code 408: 394-6632 10 cents per copy; $5.00 per year by mail

Oak Shores Grand Opening

Oak Shores, a multi-million dollar land development on Lake Nacimiento, one of California's largest and most popular watersports lakes, will open today with a rare control pattern for protection of its natural characteristics.

Developed by General Resource Development of Paso Robes, Oak Shores will represent a rarity in these days of crowded and over-used recreation areas.

"It will be a one-of-a-kind community," says Harry L. Browne, GRD president. "Protection of the wildlife, birds and foliage will be enforced.

"The families who want to live where they can waterski, fish, sail and motorboat on 5,200 surface acres of blue water have expressed their intense desire to see that nothing is disturbed, that the terrain and its wildlife inhabitants are protected."

Browne says that GRD will follow a masterplan which calls for underground utilities, including a sewerage system and private, paved roads, at a cost of millions of dollars.

"The development of Oak Shores just west of Paso Robles, will be done in increments," he explained. "It is already two years in the making, and because it is the only private development on Lake Nacimiento, we will make it one of the finest in the State of California."

General Resource Development, the corporation which Browne heads, has some rather enthusiastic plans for Oak Shores, located on the north shore of Lake Nacimiento, better than seven times larger than Lake Arrowhead in Southern California.

He said Oak Shores will have its own marine facility, lodge, equestrian center, campground for lot buyers, and recreation homes, designed in the tradition of outdoor living.

Custodial Foreman

The County of Monterey has an opening for a Custodial Foreman at a salary range of $496-615 per month to asist in supervision of custodians as well as perform custodial duties. Duties would normally be performed during the evening, Monday through Friday.

Applicants should have at least two years of varied experience in building maintenance and custodial work including supervisory experience.

Further information and applications are available from the Personnel Office, County Court House, POB 180, Salinas CA 93901; phone 424-8611, ext. 284.

Imported Disease

The Heath Department recommends that medical staffs of the hospital clinics and private offices throughout the County consider a broad spectrum of differential diagnoses of signs and symptoms developing during or after returns from overseas travel. To some, travel is a regular way of life and they won't think of mentioning it. It may be well to ask.

Reports of "imported" disease, particularly from Africa and Asia are being seen more and more frequently in Communicable Disease Center bulletins. Exotic diesease such as onchocerciasis and filariasis appear from time to time in the USA. Some that are seen only rarely are being observed from time to time--Lassa Fever from Nigeria, for example. Malaria along with imported (as well as domestic) hepatitis are again becoming problems for the family physician. Smallpox, yellow fever, the enteric and parasitic diseases, typhus and plague threaten and must be considered constantly.

Most of the imported diseases are indirectly transmitted to man, and thus are of relatively little immediate danger to medical office and hospital personnel attending them. One notable exception is smallpox. In order to assure protection for high risk personnel, revaccination every three years instead of the usual ten year interval is recommanded.

Education Plan

California's plan for vocational education was approved and adopted by the State Board of Education during the Board's June 11 meeting in San Diego.

The plan is the key document that, when approved by the U.S. Commissioner of Education, will enalbe the state to receive nearly $25 million of federal education funds for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

More than just a contractual agreement between the state and federal government, the plan is a comprehensive document of standards and criteria, a description of the new year's programs and services and a forecast of how the state can meet the manpower demands through occupational training over the next five years.

Adoption of the plan, according to State Superintendent of Public Schools Dr. Max Rafferty, ultimately means that more than 1 million young people and adults in California will be receiving the vocational training they will need to fill employer demands.

Vocational education programs are conducted in high schools, adult schools, and two-year community colleges. Nearly 300 occupational preparation categories are served, and currently, some 800 California school districts provide some type of specific job training.

State Director of Vocational Education Wesley P. Smith, who presented the plan for vocational education to the State Board of Education, said that the mission of vocational education is occupational competency and job placement is its goal.

Podiatry Students Deferment

Washington, D.C. Congressman Burt L. Talcott (California, 12th District) has been advised by the Director of Selective Service that he has received from the National Security Council a memorandum of advice on the deferment of students in medical specialities. The memorandum states that following consideration of the needs of the Armed Forces and the civilian population, the President has decided that students in "medicine and allied specialities" should include disciplines listed below:
Medicine (allopathic and osteopathic), Dentistry, Veterinary Medicine, Optometry, Podiatry.

Talcott said "the effect of this decision is to add podiatry to the disciplines for which deferments have been authorized."

The Director told Congressman Talcott that the necessary instructions will be promulgated as rapidly as possible.

CONFERENCE IN HAWAII

Mr. and Mrs. Guil Bautista of Seaside, attended the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials, Pacific Southwest Regional Conference at the Princess Kaiulani Hotel in Honolulu, Hawaii this past May.

Mr. Bautista, Vice Chairman Redevelopment Agency, City of Seaside, and his wife were among representatives from Arizona, California, Hawaii, Guam, Nevada and Utah, during the exciting trip to Hawaii.

The National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials is the only national professional organization that serves the local, state and federal public agencies and officials, including voluntary organizations, involved directly in the national effort to provide decent living environments for all Americans.

Its membership comprises the practitioners most familiar with the programs of public and private low-to-moderate income housing, urban renewal, housing code enforcement, neighborhood rehabilitation and conservation, and city development.

While there, the Bautistas toured Housing and Redevelopment Projects, attended general sessions, attended exhibitors receptions, luncheons and went on lots of excursions, including the Pearl Harbor Cruise and the Island of Oahu. They attended a reception at Washington Place, Honolulu, at the request of the Governor of Hawaii and Mrs. Burns. They also lunched at the famous LaRonde restaurant, atop of the Ala Moano Bldg. The spectacular view surrounding them at America's first revolving restaurant was literally all of Honolulu, one of the world's most beautiful cities. And it just takes one hour to complete a tour...Diamond Head, Waikiki, the sparkling blue Pacific, Pearl Harbor, the Waianae Mountains, the plantations, the Koolau Range...from a height of over 400 feet.

The Bautistas were also guest of Lowell S. Dillingham, president of Dillingham Corporation in Honolulu. Dillingham Corp. traces its origins to 1889 when B.F. Dillingham founded Oahu Railways and Land Company, and to 1902 when his son Walter F. Dillingham, founded Hawaiian Dredging Company. These two companies were pioneers in unlocking the full potential of Hawaii's growth; one, through providing the transportation vital to Oahu's agricultural development, and the other, through harbor dredging and land creation such as the reclamation of the swamp area known today as Waikiki.

They were also guests of the Benny DeSeos of Honolulu. The Bautista's son, Raul, is a son-in-law of the DeSeos.

Mr. Bautista and his family of 8 children, have lived in Seaside for many years. He is a retired army Captain, have served 30 years in military service. He is presently a popular salesman at British Motors in Monterey.

Leave Wildlife Alone, DFG Urges

The annual vacation exodus of millions of Californians to the mountains, desert and seashore prompted a reminder from the Department of Fish and Game today to leave the wildlife unmolested in its natural habitat.

DFG Director Ray Arnett noted that the stripping of plants and animals from coastal tide pools by students and curiosity seekers is becoming a major problem.

"The marine life of our intertidal zone should be left for the enjoyment of all as an important part of our environment -- not stripped away for souvenirs to be discarded later," Arnett said.

A special regulation adopted last year by the Fish and Game Commission protects invertebrates -- except legal sportfish species such as crabs, clams and abalones -- in the intertidal zone of state parks, beaches, reserves and recreation areas. Violators may be arrested and, upon conviction, subject to a fine of $500 and six months imprisonment.

Mountain visitors are urged to leave wild animals alone and not try to "adopt" them as pets. In addition to being illegal, this practice is dangerous to the persons taking the animal and usually harmful to the animal.

"Each year we get reports of people -- usually children --being severely injured or even killed by a supposedly tame deer," Arnett said.

"Deer are beautiful animals in their own surroundings, but a dangerous nuisance in a back yard pen," Arnett said.

The DFG also points out that many fawns that appear to be "abandoned" actually are near their mothers and will be cared for if the fawn is left undisturbed.

Desert visitors are cautioned against destroying any plants or wildlife -- but particularly the rare desert tortoise.

This interesting reptile is threatened with imminent extinction because of human encroachments on its habitat and because of human encroachments on its habitat and because so many have been taken for pets or by commercial poachers for sale to pet shops.

"This interesting species of desert wildlife should be left unmolested in its natural habitat for others -- not only now but in future generations --to enjoy," Arnett said.

The DFG also points out that it unlawful to sell, purchase, harm or shoot any projectile at a desert tortoise.

L.A. CITY COUNCIL COMMENDS - In behalf of the Los Angeles City Council, Councilman Thomas Bradley presents a special resolution to industrialist S.M. Marcus for his "far-sighted community humanitarian practices." Marcus, who is president of Hudson Discount Stores, coast-to-coast chain of 75 stores, of which 31 are in Los Angeles, was honored at a meeting of the full City Council for extending employment and training to minority racial groups in the disadvantaged communities in which a majority of the stores are situated. Hudson staff members who participated in the unusual ceremonies included (left to right) Leonard White, director advertising; Ernestine Walker, sales clerk; Narciso Jimenez, leasing assistant; Ann Thomas, executive secretary to Marcus; Marcus; Councilman Bradley; Amanda Green and Iris Parks, sales clerks; Arthur Buchanan, director chainwide store operations and Donald Derricks, personnel and community relations director. The Hudson chain operates a store in Seaside at 2040 Fremont Blvd.

California Rodeo

Montie Montana, the internationally famous trick and fancy roper whose "catches" have included the late President Eisenhower, will be the star of the track show at the 1970 California Rodeo to be held at Salinas, July 16 through 19.

Montie, who has given command performances for Prince Philip of England, Crown Prince Akahito of Japan, and the crowned heads of Arabia, can spin yarns of the Old West as easily as eh spins his 50-foot ropes. He has made it his avocation in this fast-moving world to see that children learn their great American heritage.

That's what the 1970 California Rodeo is all about this year. It will present the skills of the cowboys and salute the Old Monterey Bicentennial being celebrated throughout the county this year.

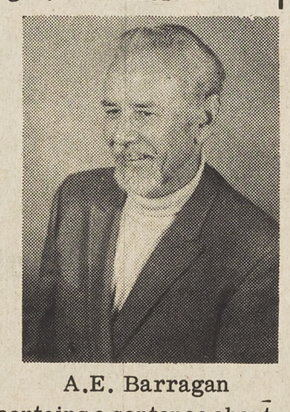

Special bicentennial events will include a colorful pageant of the nine flags which have flown over California, a revival of pony express races and a special salute to the culture of Mexico on Sunday, July 19.

In addition there will be thoroughbred racing and barrel races, as well as stockhorse and cutting horse classes, on the track which operates simultaneously with the cowboy contests in the arena.

"Learning is the only wealth tyrants cannot dispoil. Only death can dim the lamp of knowledge that is within you. The true wealth of a nation lies not in its silver or gold but in its learning, wisdom and the uprightness of its sons." Kahlil Gibran, Author of the "Prophet."

Kahlil Gibran's quote contains a sentence about "the uprightness of its sons," that strikes a note of hope today as the congress and the president have finally after many years realized that an 18-year-old has the right to participate in the affairs of his nation and can vote. Nixon signed the bill granting the vote to 18 year olds somewhat reluctantly but it seems that he didn't have a choice since it was contained in the same bill that had an extension of the 1965 voting rights act. The president also hopes that the 18 year old vote will be declared unconstitutional. Most of the ultra-conservatives and reactionaries, including our own Governor Reagan deplored the fact that now those college radicals would be taken over by some politician and ruin the country. How could they do any worse than has already been done by the same old-line politicians, and that includes both parties. A fresh approach and some new ideas are welcome right now. Maybe the youtn won't have so many entrenched interests to protect. Maybe the young voters will look at a problem and try to solve it in a manner that will help humanity rather than approach it from the standpoint of "what does it

Prohibit Busing

A Bill to prohibit busing of school children without written consent of their parents, for any purpose including integration passed the State Assembly last week. Assemblywoman Yvonne Brathwaite, a black from Los Angeles attacked the bill as a "symbolic strike at every black person in this state. What it says is, we don't want you here. We won't have you here. Youre a threat to our schools." 34 Republicans and 15 Democrats voted for the Wakefield measure and 3 Republicans and 15 Democrats voted against. William T.B. Gley of Marin County one of three Republicans who voted against the bill stated, "Why can't we practice what we preach? We say why don't they bootstrap themselves. Well first you've got to have boots my friends and that means education. The bill now goes to the senate which passed a similar bill last session.

'Saves' Ft. Ord

An award of $715 is presented to Mrs. Richard H. Stoglin of Seaside by Brigadier General Glen C. Long, Ft. Ord's deputy commanding general. Mrs. Stoglin received the award for saving Ft. Ord an estimated $16,480 this year by suggesting a change in the equipment used to make reproduction masters. The new set-up results in a great saving in manhours and materials and increases the production capacity of the Adjutant General Section Reproduction Branch, where Mrs. Stoglin, a civilian employee, is an office machine operator. Religion In The Post Sentinel

The Black Church's Major Hang-Up

The Black Church is far from being what it ought to be and what God would have it to be. Like most institutions in society, the Black Church has its weaknesses as well as its strengths. The strength of the Black Church has been in providing leadership, free expression, the cultivation of the black "genius," creativity, race solidarity, recreation in the black community, education (only in the South) and a few other good, worthwhile contributions. Above all, the Black Church has been the one and only institution that has contributed the most to the survival of black people. The Black Church has been the cohesive force in the black community, the corralling and rallying force of black strength and power. It has been forced to do business in troublesome waters.

But a dark shadow has dimmed the light of the Black Church for centuries and its presence is still with it as this present hour. This dark shadow has kep the Black Church running from its true mission in society like racism has kept the White Church from its real mission. This dark shadow lingering over the Black Church has caused it to become more concerned about preparing black folks to die than live; more concerned about a world which they know nothing about instead of the real world of which they are very much a part; more concerned about the imaginary golden slippers and flowing white robes in the next world than about their bare feet and poorly clothed bodies in this world. The Black Church said, "Take the whole world but give me Jesus," but when it discovered that Jesus didn't put food in one's stomach, clothes on one's body and shelter over one's head...but that only economics and politics are the sources through which these material necessities of life come; the white man had walked off with all this world's goods while black preachers set up Real Estate Boards in heaven and sold land to black folks on Sunday morning over "there" wherever "there" is.

Now this dark shadow was casted over the Black Church during the days of slavery. Again we go into the annals of history to find the root cause. Nothing happens in a vacuum but in concrete situations. Druing slavery white Christians considered Christian indoctrination an effective weapon of keeping slaves docile and contented. Religious instruction of the slaves by the white "Christian" slave master served as a moral incentive in establishing better relations between the master and slave. Religion was instilled into the slaves in such a way that it made them more honest, but they were still slaves. Religion made the slaves more obedient, but they were still bondsmen. Religion made the slaves more faithful to their master, nevertheless, they remained slaves. Of course this was not true of all slaves. Sone slaves had enough sense and insight to see through the white "Christians" smoke screen with God's picture painted on it. Therefore many slaves made no attempt to reconcile their lot and what they knew to be the truth about the Christian religion. There is always that remanent around who refuse to bow down.

During slavery many white church leaders believed that the gospel, instead of becoming a means of creating trouble and strife between master and slave, was really the best instrument to preserve peace and good conduct among the slaves. The slaves learned from the white "Christians" that insolence was as much an offense against God as against the slavemaster. Slaves were tuaght obedience and respect to and for their superiors (all white folks) and that servants are to obey their masters. Thus the historical record explicitly substantiates the fact that religion (a distorted version of Christianity) played a major role in the perpetuation of the peculiar institution (slavery). This is the dark shadow, namely, a "slave theology" that has sent the Black Church on an idealistic trip from which it has yet to return and face up to the human realities facing black people in this nation.

The Black Church cannot afford to "jump" the present life and continue to "furnish" the black masses with all the requisite conveniences for the next. Black ministers cannot afford to function as "trusted Uncle Toms" for the Establishment for their own selfish ends while the people, their people and my people are oppressed, exploited and mistreated. The White Church's record on human rights is a scandal and the whole world knows it. Will the Black Church also make shipwreck of its faith by allowing the gospel of Jesus Christ to continue to be diluted, blurred and foggy by injecting moral and sentimental notions into it? Will the Black Church find a new meaning for its existence? Will it turn or divert its strengths in the black community toward a new consciousness that will guide it in assuming a role in the black struggle for liberation and freedom, or will it continue repeating the words of the ancient Biblical character, Job to the society that crushes and exploits the black masses, "Though it slays us yet will we trust in it?" Buell G. Gallagher said, "When Christianity capitulates to white imperialism, it may gain an empire but it will lose humanity." The White Church has made this tragic mistake. It has lost its own soul through rationalizations of the Christian faith in order to accommodate its racist ideologies and a racist culture. Must the Black Church make the same mistake?

All black preachers have been constantly reminded of their blackness in the past several years by the Black Revolution and the course it has taken. The "negro" preachers who have not gotten black yet and are not willing to accept the fact of their blackness, we will have to check them off as lost and go ahead with the real business of the church's mission in society. The Black Church must get "on the case" or there will be a flush. See you next week brothers and sisters,

Love Ya,
Rev. T.R. McKenney

Ethical Response To Violence

The lead article entitled "The Ethical Response to Violence, Revolution and Reform" in the June issue of WORLD-VIEW is by Samson B. Knoll, Dean of the faculty at the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies.

Dr. Knolls article in the journal of the council on religion and international affairs, is an adaptation of his presentation of summary at the final meeting of the council's seminar held last winter at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. Dean Knoll was one of a group of 35 opinion leaders from academic, business, professional and government circles invited to participate in the seminar on the subject of the ethical dilemmas of violence, revolution and reform.

Speaking, he said, not as a theologian but as a layman and historian concerned with the search for the most ethical code of personal conduct in the revolutionary situation which confronts Americans, Dr. Knoll summarized the main themes of the 4-day conference-seminar as follows:

"The ethical person cannot condone violence though he cannot deny the people the right to revolution. He is therefore constrained to work for social change and for necessary reforms whenever and wherever social change and reforms are necessary. Hoping thereby to prevent social ills and social discontent from erupting into violent revolution. Once revolution has broken out, however, the ethical person is constrained to do two things: To work incessantly in his own sphere to combat and to alleviate the suffering and injustices inevitably attendant to revolution and, second, to oppose counter-revolution to the best of his abilities, knowing that counter-revolution will only multiply and intensify the violence, the suffering, the injustices which he abhors. I believe that here I again join hands with Denis Goulet who asserted correctly that even to the revolutionary, revolution is the last resort."

Awarded Silver Wings

Second Lt. Dean A. Zook, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Alva Zook Jr. of 814 E. Mooney Dr., Monterey Park, Cal., has been awarded silver wings upon graduation from U.S. Air Force navigator training at Mather AFB, Cal.

Lt. Zook will remain at Mather for electronic warfare officer training.

A 1965 graduate of Mark Keppel High School, Alhambra, Cal., he earned his B.S. degree in biology in 1968 from George Pepperdine College in Los Angeles.

He was commissioned in 1969 upon completion of Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Do you want to believe in God?

You can. Not just because of what someone says about God. But because of what you yourself can learn and prove about divine Love.

Like the woman who was instantly freed by an assailant one night – when she turned to God in prayer. Or the entertainer whose back was healed through prayer after he was told he couldn't walk without surgery.

These individuals found that divine Love meets even the most challenging human needs... that powerful spiritual laws are available for anyone to use.

You can learn more of these laws by reading this week's Bible Lesson.

"Who Cares"

by Mel Vercoe

What does inflation mean to you? High prices? High taxes? But maybe higher wages? Unemployment?

High interest rates are great if you are a lender. They are robbing you of things you may need if you are in the borrowing class.

And has it ever seemed odd to you that you or a neighbor might be unemployed, yet it is difficult to find in a store a pair of binoculars or a camera or a sewing machine or a typewriter or a compact car that is built in the United States?

All of these things are tied in together, along with the complex workings of the stock exchange in New York and the world monetary system.

Basically, the whole mess is quite simple. Once inflation begins there is a constant effort by almost everyone to try to keep up with it. Labor asks for higher wages to meet rising costs of purchased goods. Manufacturers ask higher prices to meet the higher labor costs and materials costs. It isn't important who starts it. If it starts, it is like a train with a deaf and dumb engineer - it won't wait for you. You either get on and ride with everyone else, or you get left at the station.

If everything spiralled upward eaually, and if America was the only country on earth, maybe we could live with this situation.

But not everyone shares equally, and the gap between the haves and the have-nots widens each day the inflation continues. But worse yet, our higher costs of producing goods is pricing us right out of business as far as world trade is concerned. We simply can nc longer compete with Japan, West Germany, Hong Kong, Korea and some other countries, so instead of building radios, sewing machines, etc., for ourselves and for them, they are building them for us.

So their factories and their workmen are busy, while our factories are slowing down and our people are unemployed. This is not a rosy situation, because this was what blasted Great Britain from a leading world position to a position of almost nothingness in the world picture.

While we were winning the great race to the moon we were losing the world trade race, and the effect of this on America's future may be and undoubtedly will be very serious, far overshadowing the effects on individuals who may be suffering hardships.

Whatever the cause of the inflation (the Vietnam war, progress, poor planning or just plain greed), it is here, and it is going to destroy America as a world power.

It is strange, in a way, and at the same time frustrating and disgusting that we place such high priorities on getting a man to the moon, or increasing our five times overkill nuclear capacity to ten times overkill capacity, yet we refuse to face the reality that none of these things will really matter if our economy is beaten to its knees into a depression that will mean an end to our role as a world leader. This is what inflation really means - disaster with a short fuse.

Funds Released

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. Max Rafferty reported today that more than $20 million of federal funds has been allocated to California school districts to help finance the state's public vocational educational programs for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1970.

Wesley P. Smith, State Director of Vocational Education, has noted that the current allocation of funds to California is the largest in the 50-year history of federal aid for Vocational Education. Of the total grants, approximately $12 million has been assigned to secondary school districts and $8 million to community colleges.

School districts and community college districts are being notified regarding the amount of federal funds that they will be entitled to receive. The sytem of allocation of funds to the districts encourages the growth of vocational education programs, insures an equitable sharing of federal funds by all districts, provides a dependable level of assured availability of funds on a continuing basis, and allows for special assistance for training of the disadvanataged and handicapped.

Contrary to the practice of many other states, in which students desiring occupational training are likely to attend specialized, separate training schools, California relies almost exclusively on its traditional "comprehensive" school structure. With the new allocation of federal funds, students in California high schools, community colleges, and adult schools will have increased opportunity for career preparation choices.

Job placement is the goal of vocational education. Last year nearly 80% of the students in California who completed vocational education programs and who were available for employment were employed in jobs in the field for which they were trained.

In 1969-70, some 636,000 students were enrolled in vocational education programs in the high schools and adult schools. Vocational Education enrollment in the community colleges was 304,000.

Federal funds allocated for Monterey County are:

Carmel Unified, $9229; Gonzales Union, $15,000; King City Joint Union, $6,500; Monterey Peninsula Unified, $34,260; Pacific Grove Unified, $10,009; Salinas Union, $45,746; Hartnell Joint Junior College, $56,503; Monterey Peninsula Jr. College, $65,449.

Francis Ford In Germany

do to my pocketbook." May be the men who have had to fight all of our wars to protect the almighty dollar will now be able to express their opposition to the draft and the war at the ballot box and won't have to resort to the streets to shout their protests. Maybe the young men and women who have so many ideas on how the country should be run will now do something about changing things instead of feeling frustrated that their voice is not being heard. Well, young people, I'm all for you but for Gods sake now that you have the vote, get out and do something about it.

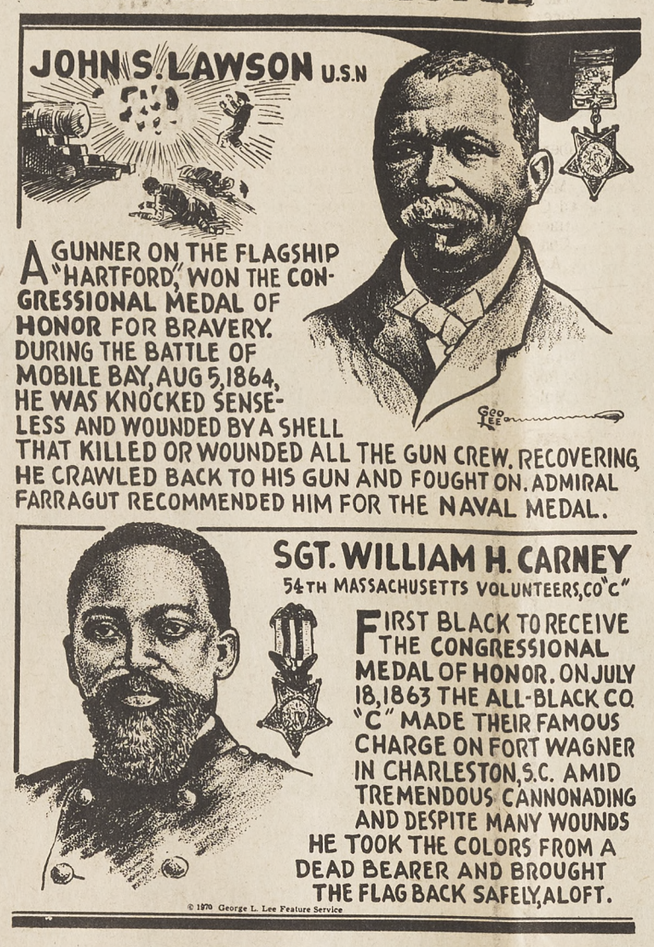

Your elders have had the right to vote and only about half of them even trouble to register to vote and then those that do register haven't the civic pride to get out on election day and vote. No wonder the organized groups that have an axe to grind are able to win over what is good for human rights. We have let them by not voting.

The poor golf course people are up in arms because the county tax assessor is going to tax golf courses just the same as he taxes all of the rest of us. Most of the other counties had already raised the assessed valuation of their golf courses in the last five years. The assessor in Monterey County admits that they hadn't been doing that and that now the state is on their backs asking them to bring all assessments to as close to 25% of value. I don't know what they are crying about. The little homeowner has had his assessment raised and raised in the last few years to the point where many of the old pensioners have had to give up their homes their taxes were raised so high. I remember from my days in Sacramento that the golf course lobby was always trying to get courses assessed as farm land and now the latest gimmick is "green belts." "Green belts" would be fine if all of the people could enjoy them, but as we all know, golf clubs are exclusive and it takes a lot of money to belong to the club and in many cases even if you have the money if you are a Jew or Black or non-caucasian you can't belong to the club. Green belts, baloney, they should pay taxes just as any other money-making proposition.

You know, sometimes I wonder if we have good sense. A few years ago the government allowed the merger of the Pennsylvania railroad with the New York Central in the hopes that the merger would bring about a profitable situation and that the economies realized from a cut in the overhead would save the two roads. Well it hasn't helped and now the combined railroad called the Penn-Central is going into bankruptcy. John Volpe, Secretary of Transportation for President Nixon is rushing to congress asking for a government guaranteed loan of about 3/4 of a billion dollars ($750,000,000). Here is what I mean when I say sometimes I wonder if we have good sense. The railroad's parent company is the sixth largest corporation in the U.S and it can't or won't bail out one of its subsidiaries. No, they want the American people to apy for their mismanagement. I hope congress turns secretary Volpe down on his request. There are too many intergovernment connections with this railroad and I think that long hearings should be held before there is another giveaway of our tax money. How can those people in the administration look themselves in the mirror in the morning when just the other day President Nixon vetoed a bill which called for $1.25 billion for hospital construction. And now his transportation secretary has the gall to come to congress and ask for over half of that money to be loaned to a mismanaged railroad. Thank God that the congress overrode the president's veto and voted the money for the hospital construction.

As I said in the last issue of Ripples, our job is to point out some of the inequities that exist in our present system and hope that a spark of awareness will dawn and that the people will do something to help themselves.

INTERESTING PEOPLE

Letters to the Editor

Sir: We sincerely appreciate your cooperation in allowing our students to work with you as part of our Job Exploration Program at Seaside High School. As you know, this experimental program was federally funded in an effort to motivate youngsters who were low achievers and motivational problems.

We strongly feel that you have given these students not only a positive stimulus, but also a definite learning experience. This was examplified in their willingness to go to work and the enthusiastic way they talked about their jobs and the people they came in contact with. We also found a rise, in most cases, in interest and achievement in the academic area which, we are convinced, is partly due to their being given an opportunity to be treated as responsible people in a job situation. If we continue our program next year, we hope you will be interested in continuing to provide similar opportunities for our students.

We certainly feel your selfless contribution is worthy of commendation.

Our thanks again.

Sincerely,

James R. Solberg,
Principal, Seaside High School

Sir: A recent application to show Adult movies at the Del Rey Theatre was denied by the Seaside City Council with a vote of 4 to 1, Councilman Stephen Ross casting the lone vote for.

The applicant assured the council they would show kiddies movies on Saturday and possibly on Sunday afternoons, and although their lease prohibits the showing of first run movies, they would still be in a position to show movies other than just the Adult, they intended to start with.

The Del Rey theater has been opened and closed a number of times when it was strictly adult entertainment, so granting permission now will be leaving it to the wishes of the theatergoers.

Should the applicant go into court on this denial by the City Council, and other cases have been won on this issue, I recommend that no legal funds be spent by the Council of the City of Seaside to defend this position.

OTHER VIEWS

"Our government reacts, just to stand still; our leaders fear change, for change may present new problems. Each day in our nation's capital is lived for the sole purpose of getting to the next ... Gone is the vision we knew so well, gone is the faith in America. Whether or not that vision of faith returns depends on us -- the Democratic Party. We have laid the groundwork before for change in America. We must lay that groundwork again in 1970." -- SENATOR EDWARD M. KENNEDY (D, Massachusetts), in June, 1970.

"When a child is 8 or 9 he discovers the miracle of his senses -- that he can see, taste, hear and smell. He learns the law of variety, that no two things are alike. At that age, a child should be taught to ask, 'Being such a marvel, how can I kill?' It is wrong, savage. Wars arise only from material thoughts and people fight because they are ordered to fight. We are pacifists or we are savages." -- PABLO CASALS, in June, 1970.

To Children of All Ages

Your will see a dog in the Seaside Parade on July 5. She will be with a pirate, but he is not important. The dog's name is Lady Radar. She is a German Shepherd. She is beautiful, she is wonderful.

About six or eight months from now Lady Radar should have some puppies.

I want to give three of Lady's puppies to the three children, of whatever age, who promise to love them the most.

What does love of a dog mean? It means training, and cleaning, and feeding, and watering, and walking, and grooming, and hugging, and hugging, and huggins.

Please children, if you want one of Lady Radar's puppies, write to me at the address below and start your letter off: "I have permission of my parents to have a dog, and I am ____ years old," and then tell us how much you will love it. Letters should be mailed before July 31, 1970.

The Judges will be Art Bayer, Manager of The Seaside Chamber of Commerce, Lois Jennings, his assistant, and myself. The reason I ask that the letters be addressed to me is that I shall cherish the letters of the ones who do not win.

Children, we need more love in this world------for puppies, and birds, and fish, and people.

Release No. 885

LAW IN ACTION

A court needs cross-examination to find the truth, to test a witness, his knowledge and recollection. Without cross-examination no one can get a fair trial. The courts use it to sift, explain, or modify the main testimony of a witness and, if he cannot give a straight answer, to discredit him. The law calls it "impeaching" a witness.

When one side presents an "expert" witness, he must explain his opinion on cross-examination.

What happens if a witness won't answer questions on cross-examination? Then a court strikes from the record all of his direct testimony. He may also face a penalty for contempt of court.

For example, in one case a witness tried to give the accused an alibi. He said that on the night of the crime the accused took a young woman home. When cross-examined, the witness would not name her. The judge struck all he had said from the record. A witness's entire testimony is stricken, for example, if he becomes ill or leaves after his direct examination, keeping the other side from cross-examining him.

Thus a police informer bought drugs from the accused for which, he said, he used marked money. On cross-examination, the witness admitted that he had not given his real name, to protect himself from reprisal. The district attorney objected when the defense lawyer asked the informer to give his real name, and the court sustained the objection. But after conviction the defendant took his case to a higher court which agreed: "To forbid this most rudimentary inquiry at the threshold is effectively to emasculate the right of cross-examination itself."

Bank of America passbooks shift into high.

5¾% on our Investors Passbook account. That's a nice, hefty, rate increase for bank passbook convenience. And a wise way to invest in these uncertain times.

What's more, at Bank of America you have three ways to earn high passbook interest. It all depends on how long you want to keep your funds invested. Let's take it from the top.

5¾% Investors Passbook.
Leave your money with us for two years and it will earn 5¾% annual interest. Compounded and paid quarterly. $500 minimum deposit. And you can add to it any time in amounts of $100 or more.

5½% Investors Passbook.
If a one-year maturity is about right for you, we'll pay you 5½% interest. The same $500 minimum applies, as well as the privilege of adding to your investment in amounts of $100 or more.

5% Investors Passbook.
This is our short term offer. 90-day maturity. And you earn 5% annual interest. Again, a $500 minimum opens an account. Add to it in amounts of $100 or more.

That's our new rate story. But you haven't heard the end of it. The security of the world's largest bank. It's always been the clincher for saving at Bank of America.

We think you should make money minus worry. The business of living can have its enjoyable moments. Save with us.

Language Workshop

A few places are still available in the 7-week language workshop for junior and senior high school students at the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies. Nine places are available in the Spanish classes and 6 in the German classes.

"Applications will be accepted on a first come first serve basis," says Thomas Schultze, director of the summer session at the Institute, "and although classes began on June 22, registration is possible through the month. However, it is obviously advantageous to register immediately in order to benefit fully from the course."

Students must have had one year of the language to be studied, he said. The instructional fee is $25 for the 7 weeks. Books may be purchased in the Institute's bookstore. Classes meet from 1 to 3, Monday through Friday, through Aug. 7. Students in the workshop will be taught by a team of three qualified Monterey Institute of Froeign Studies graduate students working toward their teaching credentials under Dr. Ly Tran, head of the Department of Education at the Institute.

Interested students should apply immediately at the registrar's office, 442 Van Buren, Monterey.

Awards Ceremony

An awards ceremony for Army Community Service (ACS) volunteers was held Thursday (June 18) at the Ft. Ord Officers Club.

Colonel T.L. Morgan, who made the presentation of awards, commended ACS and its volunteer workers for providing the answers to the real problems that arise in the Ft. Ord Community. The ACS work is highly valued, he said, by the men in service who know there is someone to help and care for their dependents.

Mrs. Martin J. Slominski, who has served as chairman of volunteers during the past year, received the Certificate of Appreciation for Patriotic Civilian Service, awarded by the Department of the Army. Mrs. Slominski is leaving Ft. Ord for Carlysle Barracks, Pa., where Colonel Slominski will be stationed. The new chairman of ACS volunteers will be Mrs. Toru Okawachi.

A gift of $100 to support ACS work was presented by Mrs. Slominski, speaking for Mrs. Kibbey Horne, wife of the commandant of the Defense Language Institute. The money represents proceeds from the DLI Thrift Shop.

ACS Guard Award for four years' service as volunteers was made to Mrs. Lawrence Ferguson and Mrs. Jose Figueroa.

Second Year ACS Guard Awards went to the Mmes. Claude Clark, George Green, Richard Ross.

Murray Statement

Democratic Assembly Candidate Oliver F. Murray, Seaside Councilman on Wakefield Busing Bill stated "The School Busing Ban passed by the California State Assembly yesterday is an outrage, an affront, and a condemnation to the minorities and the poor of California. This bill is symbolic of the mood of the Republican Administration in Sacramento.

"It is an affluence for the fluent and punish the poor" philosophy, Murray said.

I could not conceive of a more direct contempt of society's least fortunate being formulated in any place but Bull Conner's Police Station in Birmingham Alabama -- and Bob Wood voted for it. You can not legislatively prohibit social progress. This bill is a disservice to this Assembly district."

W & M Inspector

The County of Monterey has an opening for a Weights and Measures Inspector at a salary range of $599-$743 per month with a promotional opportunity to a range of $649-$806 per month. Duties include inspecting and testing a variety of weighing and measuring devices and packaged goods.

Applicants should have a four year college degree preferably with courses related to physics, engineering or related fields. Applicants should also have a good mechanical aptitude and possess a California dirver's license.

Further information and applications are available from the Personnel Office, County Court House, POB 180, Salinas CA 93901; phone 424-8611, ext. 284.

The last date for filing applications is Friday, July 10.

William Moyn

Toyota Names Moyn

The appointment of William "Bill" Moyn as regional manager for the San Francisco region of Toyota Motor Distributors, Inc., has been announced by J.T. Ryan, assistant national sales manager/field operations.

In his new capacity, Moyn will oversee Toyota operations in northern and central California and northern Nevada. The area includes 54 Toyota dealerships.

Moyn, who joined Toyota as assistant distribution manager in August, 1968, following 19 years with the Ford Division of Ford Motor Co., previously was assistant regional manager in the San Francisco office.

A graduate in business administration from the University of Arizona in Tucson, Moyn is married and has two teenage daughters. The Moyns make their home in Marin County.

Employed wives tend, with any number of children at every age, to work longer than their husbands. With five children or more, the wife probably is slogging away for 80 hours a week. The husband has 10 hours more spare time.

ACS Awards Receives Award

ACS Guard Awards to the Mmes. Robert Lund, Toru Okawachi and Lawrence Tifverman.

Receiving ACS pins were the Mmes. Rafael Garcia, Francis Downey, Ralph Rohloff, Verne Slighter and Gary Valimaki.

Therr women have completed training for ACS volunteer work and received their certificates: Mmes. Frank Gould, Verne Slighter and Stanley Syndinham.

Certificates of Appreciation went to volunteers who are leaving Ft. Ord: Mmes. Robert Lund, David Jones, James Bowen III, Francis Downey, Harold Travis and Frank Gould.

Army Capt. Don Johnson, whose wife, Rosina, lives at 1786 Judson St., Seaside, recently was awarded the Vietnamese Staff Service Medal first class near Xuan Loc, Vietnam.

The award is presented to personnel in military staff organizations who have distinguished themselves with resourcefulness and dedication to the staff work assigned.

The captain is a training center advisor with Advisory Team 87, advising Vietnamese army units.

'69 Bottomfish Catch One of Best on Record

California's ocean bottomfish catch for 1969 was 36,533,068 pounds, the third highest total for a single year in the 95-year history of trawling, the Department of Fish and Game reported today.

Only the 1957 and 1958 landings, which were more than 38 million pounds, exceeded last year's catch. The leading species in the 1969 catch was Dover sole, with a record 12.9 million pounds landed. Other important bottomfish species include English sole, petrale sole, flounder, sablefish and halibut and such deepwater rockfishes as bocaccio and chilipepper.

Watsonville Speedway

Another major confrontation is coming to Watsonville Speedway July 3, and will over 3,000 spectators will be on hand to watch it.

The occasion for all the interest will be the season's second 100-lap combination main event pitting the sportsmen against the more-powerful and raoring super-modifieds.

Can Jerry Cecil do it again? That's something people are wondering, and something they will flock to the track to find out for sure on July 3.

On May 29, an identical combination 100-lapper was held, and Cecil--behind the wheel of a sportsman division race car--outdueled the heavily-favored supers. The victory subsequently was taken away from him when NASCAR officials penalized him one position for passing cars while the yellow caution flag was out.

The guaranteed purse for the event will be $1,500, with at least $300 going to the winner of the 100-lap confrontation.

There will be a trophy dash, a "C" race, a 20-lap semi-main event and the 100-lapper for the sportsmen and the super-modifieds.

But that won't be all. The wild and woolly early model stockers will compete on the same program, though in completely separate races.

The stockers will have two main events, a 20-lapper on the oval track and a 12-lapper on the "figure-eight" track, the latter an immensely exciting event that each week sees the spectators on their feet screaming with delight. In addition, the stockers will run a trophy dash on the oval.

Watsonville Speedway is located at the Santa Cruz County Fairgrounds.

William Moy Receives Scholarship

William Moy of Ft. Ord has received a Joseph Bonnheim Memorial Scholarship to continue his studies this fall on the Davis campus of the University of California.

Moy is the son of SFC and Mrs. P.H. Moy of 105 Rabaul Rd. and is a graduate of Seaside High School. At Davis, he is a graduate student majoring in biological science.

Safe Boating Week

In connection with National Safe Boating Week, June 28-July 4, Director Robert C. Cozens of the Department of Motor Vehicles urges every boat owner to be sure his boat is properly registered. Prompt identification of California's more than 400,000 undocumented vessels and their owners is desirable in connection with search and rescue, property protection and law enforcement.

Cozens says the department now has full responsibility for all boat registration functions, making possible "one stop" boat, trailer, and car registration service at any DMV office in the state.

He urges boat owners to notify the department of any change of address or sale or purchase of a boat.

Commission to Consider Hunts

Special hunts for deer, elk and antelope will be considered by the California Fish and Game Commission at a meeting in San Francisco Friday (June 26).

Commission President C. Rans Pearman of San Gabriel announced the meeting will begin at 9 a.m. in Room 1194 of the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue.

The Department of Fish and Game recommended 27 special antlerless and either-sex deer hunts with 10,875 permits for the 1970-71 season.

Three proposed hunts were vetoed by local boards of supervisors in Modoc and Lassen counties, eliminating 1,300 permits, and the proposed Camp Roberts hunt in Monterey County was withdrawn because the Army is phasing out the base and won't have personnel available to manage the hunting. The Camp Roberts Hunt had been proposed for 100 permits. Local supervisors' action also reduced the number of permits for the proposed Tenaja Hunt in Orange, Riverside and San Diego Counties from 500 to 200.

The DFG also has recommended a special hunt for 300 surplus buck antelope in northeastern California for August 29-September 7. If approved, it would be the seventh consecutive such hunt in Modoc, Lassen and eastern Shasta and Siskiyou counties. In the past six hunts 1,525 hunters have taken 1,053 pronghorns for a 68 per cent success ratio. Last year 270 hunters took 204 for 76 per cent.

This year's aerial census of pronghorns tallied a total of 2,983 animals, the highest count in recent years.

A hunt for 100 Rocky Mountain elk in the rugged Squaw Creek area of Shasta and Siskiyou counties also is proposed by the DFG. The season would be November 14-December 6. Last year only seven elk were taken in the steep, brushy country. This year all permits would be for either sex of animal instead of specifying bull or cow, and this is expected to boost hunter success somewhat. The present herd of some 1,000 animals is descended from a plant of Rocky Mountain elk from Yellowstone National Park to the area in 1916.

Among the other items on the commission agenda is a proposed regulation to authorize Indians to take game carcasses from reservations under permits to be issued by the Department of Fish and Game.

Norwegian Visitor

Lt. Gen. Harald Løken, Commander-in-Chief of the Norwegian army visited the army combat developments command experimentation command at its field laboratory on the Hunter Liggett Military Reservation for further insight into its unusual mission: designing the army of tomorrow, while improving the army of today. The visitor from Norway toured the command June 22.

He was briefed on CDCEC's activities, given an overall look at the field laboratory's 268,000 acres of varied terrain, so suited for mock warfare, from the air by helicopter and taken by jeep to various locations for a close-up look at the action.

The Norwegian visitor was accompanied by three officers from his own army and a US army escort officer from Washington, DC.

They are Maj. Gen. Arne G Lund, defense military and air attache, Embassy of Norway in Washington; Lt Col Hans W Rohde, Løken's assistant; Col Aren Brandsaeter, deputy chief of staff for personnel, Norwegian army command; Capt Arne Vik, staff officer of the materiel command, army of Norway; and Col John H Jeffries of the US army.

CDCEC is one of seven selected stops on Løken's tour of the U.S He also desired to visit Ft. Sill, Okla., home of STRICOM; Ft. Knox, Ky.; Patrick Air Force base at Cocoa Beach Fla.; the US Continental army command at Ft. Monroe, Va.; headquarters commander-in-chief Atlantic at Norfolk, Va.; and the US Military Academy at West Point, NY.

Festival Announces New Sound Company

The board of directors of the Monterey Jazz Festival has announced that Harry McCune Sound Service Inc., headquartered in San Francisco, has been awarded a contract to supply sound amplification for this three-day, five concert jazz event, scheduled September 18, 19, 20.

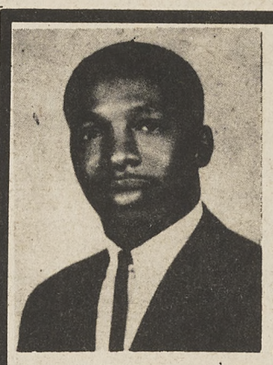

McCune has been in the sound business for more than 35 years and is the largest company in the West supplying sound service to major concerts and music festivals.

For the Monterey Jazz Festival McCune's sound will be under the direction of Mort Feld, vice president and general manager for the company.

Frank Wilkinson, president of the Festival's board of directors said, "We are happy to make the announcement of the McCune Company's appointment. It has an international reputation for its excellence and we know festival patrons will be pleased."

As in previous years, the 13th Annual Monterey Jazz Festival will be held on the Monterey Fairgrounds and will consist of a series of five different concerts (Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings and Saturday and Sunday afternoons) in the 7000-seat fairgrounds outdoor arena and will feature major jazz artists.

Season tickets for this year's festival are on sale now. Further information may be obtained by writing the Monterey Jazz Festival, POB Jazz, Monterey, CA 93940 or phoning (408) 373-3366.

OUTSPOKEN ACTOR - Raymond St. Jacques, who threatened to walk off set of movie, "Cotton Comes to Harlem," unless blacks were hired, is shown in scene from Universal Television's popular series, "The Name of the Game," which he filmed after "Cotton."

Black Star Concerned About Behind Scenes Hiring

When the movie "Cotton Comes To Harlem" is released later this year you'll view an interesting film with the usual number of big-name stars (Godfrey Cambridge and Raymond St. Jacques, to name a couple). What you won't see, however, are the behind-the-scenes machinations on the parts of St. Jacques and others to involve Blacks in non-acting positions as technicians, craftsmen and other personnel.

St. Jacques, recently at Universal Studios for a guest-starring role in "The Name of the Game," recalled the situation vividly.

"In front of the camera one can definitely see a certain amount of progress. I personally feel there's still a degree of tokenism, but at least one sees progression instead of regression.

"However, what I'm really concerned about is the blatant discrimination which, until recent efforts, existed and still exists behind the cameras. Naturally, all of us on 'Cotton' were anxious to get Blacks onto our show, especially since we were filming a movie about Black people in a Black community (Harlem) --with what started out as being a white crew.

"We had some dissidents come up and demonstrate right in front of the cameras. They tried to force the company to hire Blacks as apprentices and make the crew 50% Black. Of course, they knew they couldn't stick to the 50% figure because of the unions' experience roster system, but the demands were made anyway."

As it turned out, getting the young Blacks on the film wasn't an easy matter. Special money had to be allocated. Negotiations had to be carried out. Everyone concerned remained remarkably calm. At one point St. Jacques, Cambridge and the film's Black director, Ossie Davis, threatened to walk off the production, but finally the situation was resolved.

Once the young apprentices were brought onto the film, however, another situation arose. As St. Jacques put it, "Once Black actors or stars or whatever you choose to call them put their reputations on the line, then those young Blacks must be expected to carry out their end of the deal by working hard and trying to learn all they can.

"What happened, at least in part, on 'Cotton' was that we got these apprentices hired and some of them turned around and suddenly became too Black to push a broom or do anything else they felt was 'beneath' them.

"But that's what apprenticeship is all about and they've got to realize that. They can't start right out pushing buttons, plugging in wires and giving orders."

Of course, the young people had their problems too. The whites in the crew, in several instances, didn't exactly cooperate as much as they could have. The young Black make-up apprentice, for instance, "wasn't really learning anything" according to St. Jacques.

"So I taught her myself," says the actor. "I finally let her make me up for a shot and I told her I wasn't going to check anything before I went in front of the cameras. Bless her heart. She was scared to death, but everything went fine."

Such involvement is right in keeping with the normal order of things in St. Jacques' life. For example, when the police raided the Los Angeles headquarters of the Black Panthers and staged a shoot-out, St. Jacques was right there.

"The interesting thing about the situation," says Raymond, "was viewing the coalition of Brothers and Sisters with varying philosophies standing united on this issue.

"It had nothing to do with the ideology of the Panthers. It

Ice Follies of 1970

Shipstads & Johnson Ice Follies of 1970, opening at the Oakland Coliseum for a six-day run on Tuesday, July 7, features not only the incomparable Peggy Fleming, but also Ice Follies Debonaire, Richard Dwyer.

Dwyer is now celebrating his 20th year with Ice Follies. Even before he joined the Ice Follies in 1951, Dwyer skated in tails. It was partially for this reason, plus his proven ability on the ice as third place finisher in the 1950 United States Championships, that led to his invitation to join the show as Roy Shipstad's replacement.

"After he retired," said Dwyer, "rather than bringing in someone who might be compared to Roy Shipstad, they must have thought the audience would like me because I was a youngster and because I could grow into the part.

"Now people say, 'I was there when you were shorter than the girls.' People identify with the role."

At the recent Madison Square Garden engagement in New York City, Ice Follies paid tribute to Dwyer's 20th year with the show. In complete secrecy, every partner that Dwyer had skated with in Ice Follies was flown into New York and costumed for the show. Just after the Swing Waltz, before intermission, Marlene Miller Smith, Georgiana Sutton Maddux, Leslie Goodwin Weston, Dorothy Ann Nelson Fenno and his present partner, Susan Berens, skated onto the ice to join the "Debonaire." Each girl carried in her arms one rose for each year she skated with Dwyer, and arm in arm the sextette skated around the arena to the cheering Madison Square Garden crowd. It was a fitting tribute and a wonderful reunion for Ice Follies' Richard Dwyer.

Black Star

was the disenfranchisement of our people as a group. What the police did amounted to genocide. Instead of having a turkey-shoot, they staged a nigger-shoot. I wasn't there as a Black actor. I was there as a concerned Black man."

We could certainly use a lot more such concerned Black men in show business. Only Only when actors such as St. Jacques continue to speak out will any significant changes occur behind-the-scenes.

Grooving Around The Peninsula

with Betty Mann

Hi there fellow Peninsulians,

Exciting happenings that are coming to town this weekend are: The Clint Eastwood & Jim Brown "Tennis Thing," at the Beach club at Pebble Beach Fri. Sat & Sun July 3, 4, 5 beginning at 10 a.m. each morning tickets are $4 for Fri & $5 for Sat & Sun. For those of you residents who always compalin & say that our peninsula is dull, look and see who is coming to our shore, to compete on the tennis courts with Clint Eastwood & Jim Brown. Hollywood presents itself with a showing of its great stars, who will be playing in thi event; Robert Stack, Elke Sommer, George Peppard, Tina Sinatra, Mary Wilson (leading singer of the Supremes, the one who replace Diana Ross) Ron Ely, (star of Tarzan) Desi Arnez Jr., Lloyd Bridges, Dino Martin Jr., Claudine Longet (Andy Williams' ex-wife), Hugh O'Brien, Howard Duff, James Garner, Chris Connelly, Bo Bridges (Lloyd's son), Efram Zimbalist, tickets for this event may be purchased at the tennis courts at the Beach club. See all of you Ft. Ord'rs & Seasideiters there this weekend. Other doings about town this weekend are the 4th of July parade which will be held on Sun July 5 at 12 p.m. on Fremont Blvd, better start out early so that you can get a good vantage point, this year's parade promises to be bigger & better than ever, plan on viewing the parade for 2 hrs at least. I've heard that quite a few social clubs & etc are planning to enter floats & etc this year (right on to y'all) I've been watching the building of an old fashioned & beautiful boat this past month, as I've passed by the Julianns residence on Warring St, my curiosity got the best of me one evening, and I stopped and asked was this gorgeous thing for pleasure, or viewing and I was told it would be in the Seaside 4th of July parade, so watch for the San Antonio. Also watch for the Monterey Peninsula Cotillion league's Debutantes of 1970-71 who will certainly be showing their poise and charming personalities, also as always which is a custom, watch for the beautiful young ladies on the float of the Fil American club, which is quite a wonderful organization and a great asset to the community. One morning as I was driving down Fremont Blvd, It noticed the 4th of July message on the banners & flags welcoming you to Seaside and I noticed that the Fil American club had their banners along with the Chamber of Commerce and other orgn's. I wish more ethnic groups on the Peninsula would display more pride and interest in the community as the Fil American community has shown. Have many of you readers had the opportunity to receive a telephone call asking you to purchase a passport dining card which entitles the holder to pay for 1 meal and receive the other meal free and you have 18 exclusive restaurants around the peninsula to choose from which honor this card. Believe me it's well worth the $10 you pay for the dining card. I've been wining & dining my out of town guests at some of our most interesting & exclusive eateries around town a few have stated "how wonderful it must be to live in a charming & historical resort area", but what they don't realize is how hard it hits our pockets for daily living, heh heh! while speaking of living in this wonderful clean and unpolluted (smile) tourist attraction town. And now right on to you military minded folks; don't forget Ft Ord's Senior NCO Military Ball, this Friday nite July 3, at the Main NCO Club; and whilte mine & me are retired, but not tired, but still military oriented we will see y'all there so come up and say hi and that you dug my scribble. (smile) and now for a change of pace, right on to the coming Jazz Festival, which is really "my thing", here's a further bit of info on what's going to happen at this set in Sept; The Saturday afternoon blues show of the Monterey Jazz Festival, a tradition with the September event, will present the Johnny Otis Show Rhythm and Blues Hall of Fame All-Stars. The concert will be held Saturday, Sept. 19, 1:30 p.m. as part of the 3-day, 13th annual Monterey Jazz Festival. It will feature Otis, T Bone Walker, Jimmy Rushing, Big Joe Turner, Little Esther Phillips and others. Festival dates are Sept. 18, 19, 20. Five concerts will be held in the 7000-seat outdoor arena on the Monterey Fairgrounds.

Festival general manager, Jimmy Lyons said the Saturday rhythm and blues concert will present "r and b music of the 40s and 50s in a special nighbclub setting on the big fairgrounds stage. We hope to present some surprise guest artists in this show as well," Lyons said.

Also on the Saturday afternoon rhythm and blues bill are: "Sugar Cane" Harris, violinist; Delmar "Mighty Mouth" Evans, Eddie "Cleanhead" Vinson, Charles Brown, Roy Brown, Roy Milton and Margie Evans, all vocalists. Big Jim Wynne, baritone saxophone; Preston Love, tenor saxophone; Gene "The Mighty Flea" Conners, trombone and Paul Lagos, drums. The show will also introduce Otis' seventeen-year-old son, "Shuggie" on bass. Leader Otis performs on piano and vibes. While other concerts in this year's Monterey Jazz Festival have not yet been announced because contracts are not completed, Lyons said he will present at least three major big bands, one during each evening concert, as well as other major jazz artists and ensembles. He also indicated that the festival's Sunday afternoon show, Sept. 20, will feature new directions in jazz. "In keeping with the policy of the festival in which new young talent is encouraged," Lyons said, "we plan a youthful show presenting new forms and some new music." More artists will be announced for the festival as contracts are signed. Season tickets for the 13th annual Monterey Jazz Festival are on sale now. Holders of season tickets are assured best reserved seats at all 5 concerts at less than box office prices. Season tickets are: $25.50, $21 & $16 and are available by mail order from the Monterey Jazz Festival, POB Jazz, Monterey, CA 93940. In San Francisco, season tickets are available at the Downtown Center Boxoffice, 325 Mason St., 775-2021 and in Oakland at Sherman Clay, Broadway at 21st St., 444-8575. Single tickets for individual performances will not be offered for sale until Aug. 1. All seats at all concerts are reserved. There will be no grounds admission.

Signing off for now, your roving reporter

Wedding

Teresita Paulino Quinata became the bride of James Beltran Ordonio on June 13 at the Post Chapel in Ft. Ord with Father John C. Brady performing the 3 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of CWO and Mrs. Jose L.G. Quinata of Ft. Ord, and the bridegrooms parents are Mr. & Mrs. Leandro B. Ordonio of Seaside.

The brides gown was floor-length and featured the A-Line Bodice made of nylon-organza and silk with appliques of chantilly lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Maid of honor was Miss Carmelita Ordonio of Seaside, Matron of honor was Miss Geraldine Paulino of Pacifica, bridesmaids were Katherine Padilla of Seaside, Barbara Stone of Sacramento, Cheryl Obligacion of Marina and flower girl was Patricia Ordonio of Seaside.

Best man was Mr. Robert Richie of San Leandro, sponsor for the groom was Mr. Glenn Olea, ushers were Leonard and Robert Ordonio both of Seaside, Joseph Quinata of Ft. Ord, and Ring bearer was Danny Quinata also of Ft. Ord.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple greeted guests at the reception in the Cypress - Bay View Room of Stillwell at Ft. Ord, with the Conte Four providing entertainment.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Seaside High.

Film Series

An outstanding movie on the people of Japan was shown at the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies June 26. This show inauguarated three separate series of films, foreign and domestic, which may be seen by the public free of charge in the auditorium of the Samuel F.B. Morse Bldg, 440 Van Buren, during the summer. The second film in this series on Japan will be shown Friday, July 24.

The Saturday morning sereis will feature foreign films, many in the language of the country involved. These will be shown at 10 a.m. on the floowing Saturdays: July 4, 11, 18, 25 and Aug. 1, 8, 15, 22. They will cover goegraphy, politics, economics, sports and other aspects of the life, culture and industry of various foreign countries. Individual films and their languages will be announced each week.

The Saturday evening series to be shown at 7 p.m., will include first run entertainment movies followed by refreshments in the student lounge.

Seaside Girl In Phi Kappa Phi

The Fresno State College Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic society initiated one student from Seaside.

She is Sandra P. Hall, a junior social science major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Phillips of 2050 Mendocino.

Recognition was given to Pichit Lerttamrab, senior economics major from Bangkok, for receiving the Spraks Memorial Graduate Fellowship.

Recognized for attaining the highest scholastic records for the Class of 1970 was Mrs. Connie Trevino, senior social science major, for the Fresno campus and Mrs. Genevieve Fabrizius, senior English major, for the Bakersfield campus. Both had straight-A records.

Pamela C. Bocketti of Fresno and Joseph S. Lung of Hong Kong received recognition for attaining the highest scholastic records of the sophomore class.

Phi Kappa Phi membership is limited to students who have completed 90 units of class work and maintained a 3.2 grade-point average on a 4.0 scale (4.0 equals A).
